Definitely Malaysia, she's always the voice of reason and you know she's just very level headed, so I'm actually pretty close to her.

Would you do a season 2 of the show or is there talks of a season 2?

Well there are talks of a season 2; well there is a season 2. However, I haven't decided whether I wanted to be apart of it but it's definitely up in the air. I mean there is a season 2 definitely.

Do you think the other girls picked on you because they were jealous?

I don't know if it was jealousy, I think it was more of an intimidation tactic. I think they wanted me to be intimidated by them and I think at the end of the day they were way more intimidated by me than I was of them. They were scared I was gonna come and take their shine and....they were right!

On the show, your hair is very cute on the show, I like the Draya braid...and I wanted to know what hair products do you use?

I definitely keep a weave and my braid is definitely one of my little trademarks, its something I like to do I basically do it when my hair is dirty. But, I have a weave in right now I use this lady out here in California. Its Called California Lace Wigs and Weaves. But, I don't wear a lace front...just weaves. (Laughs)

When will you decide if your going to do a season 2, the money has to be right or you just want to make sure they're going to portray you better?

Just everything, its not even about money. Just everything has to be right within me. I just need to make the decision with my friends and my family. Just if I wanna carry out this Basketball Wives thing or if I want to venture off and work on my own projects. But, Basketball Wives is definitely apart of my career and apart of a lot of things that I do. So, I'm not just gonna automatically cancel them out because we drive off of eachother.

Do you have any other future projects that you are working on?

Yeah definitely, I have my own bikini line, its called Mint Swim. You can just be on the lookout for that it should be ready by next month. I also, have a cameo in a movie coming up and I'm working on other projects.
